MISSOURI CITY, TX -- The parents of a Dulles Middle School student say more could've been done to try to save their child when he collapsed at school.
We have a police timeline, medical reports and surveillance video from inside the middle school the day of the boy's collapse, and his family says they all prove negligence.

161 So.3d 384 (2015)

Abel LIMONES, Sr., et al., Petitioners, v. SCHOOL DISTRICT OF LEE COUNTY et al., Respondents.

Supreme Court of Florida.

April 2, 2015.

CONCLUSION

We hold that Respondent owed a common law duty to supervise Abel, and that once injured, Respondent owed a duty to take reasonable measures and come to his aid to prevent aggravation of his injury. It is a matter for the jury to determine under the evidence whether Respondent's actions breached that duty and resulted in the damage that Abel suffered. We further hold Respondent is not entitled to immunity from suit under section 768.1325, Florida Statutes. We therefore quash the decision below and remand this case for trial.
